TENANT PROFILE:

Long John Silver's

Long John Silver's is a United States-based fast-food restaurant chain that specializes in seafood. The brand's name is derived from the novel Treasure Island by Robert Louis Stevenson, in which the pirate "Long John" Silver is one of the main characters. Formerly a division of Yum! Brands, Inc., the company was divested to a group of franchisees in 2011.

The first restaurant was opened on August 18, 1969, in Lexington, Kentucky. Long John Silver's food offerings include platters, sandwiches, and various single items. The platters feature seafood as the main item, with side dishes consisting of coleslaw, hushpuppies, corn, green beans, and French fries (chips) or batter-fried onion rings.

Long John Silver's is the world's most popular quick-service seafood chain serving nearly four million customers each week. The brand is at a three-year high on customer satisfaction and brand awareness is at 86%. With 1,000+ units in 43 states and two countries outside of the U.S. the brand has $530 million in annual sales and 28,000 global employees.

A&W Restaurant

A&W Restaurant is a fast-food chain distinguished by its draft root beer and root beer floats. A&W opened a drive-in restaurant in Lodi, California, in 1919. The company name was taken from the surname initials of partners Roy W. Allen and Frank Wright. The company became famous in the United States for its "frosty mugs", where the mug would be kept in the freezer prior to being filled with root beer and served to the customer.

Beginning to franchise in 1925, today it has franchise locations throughout the world, serving a typical fast-food menu of hamburgers and French fries, as well as hot dogs. A&W Restaurants is notable for being the first successful food franchise company. There are over 1,000 locations serving millions of customers each day.

LOCATION
OVERVIEW:

Dayton is the sixth-largest city in Ohio and is the county seat of Montgomery County. In the 2010 census, the population was 141,527, and the Dayton metropolitan area had 799,232 residents, making it Ohio's fourth-largest metropolitan area and the 63rd-largest in the United States. Dayton is within Ohio's Miami Valley region, just north of the Cincinnati–Northern Kentucky metropolitan area.

Ohio's borders are within 500 miles of roughly 60 percent of the country's population and manufacturing infrastructure, making the Dayton area a logistical centroid for manufacturers, suppliers, and shippers. Dayton also hosts significant research and development in fields like industrial, aeronautical, and astronautical engineering that have led to many technological innovations. Much of this innovation is due in part to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and its place within the community.

Dayton is home to the National Museum of the United States Air Force.

With the decline of heavy manufacturing, Dayton's businesses have diversified into a service economy that includes insurance and legal sectors as well as healthcare and government sectors.

Other than defense and aerospace, healthcare accounts for much of the Dayton area's economy. Hospitals in the Greater Dayton area have an estimated combined employment of nearly 32,000 and a yearly economic impact of $6.8 billion. In 2011, Dayton was rated the No. 3 city in the nation out of the top 50 cities in the United States by HealthGrades for excellence in health care. Many hospitals in the Dayton area are consistently ranked by Forbes, U.S. News & World Report, and HealthGrades for clinical excellence.

Companies such as Reynolds and Reynolds, CareSource, DPL, LexisNexis, Kettering Health Network, Premier Health Partners, and Standard Register have their headquarters in Dayton. Site Selection magazine has ranked Dayton the No. 1 mid-sized metropolitan area in the nation for economic development. Also, Dayton has been named one of the best places in the United States for college graduates to find a job.
